New Lease on Life for AFL, CIO Groups

By NORMAN WALKER
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany told the opening session of the federation's convention today there would be no deals in the federation's drive to eliminate labor corruption.

Meany denied reports the AFL-CIO high command is in any way willing to water down its cleanup demands on the Teamsters and other AFL-CIO unions accused of corrupt leadership.

There had been some speculation Meany was now willing to let James R. Hoffa remain in a subordinate position in the Teamsters Union and escape an expulsion move, if only Hoffa would quit as Teamsters president-elect.

In the past, Meany had said Hoffa's ouster from any sort of post in the Teamsters was "the prime requisite to that union's staying in the federation. The Teamsters, already under AFL-CIO suspension, have a total of 44 of the AFL-CIO's 13 million members.

The United Textile Workers Union was suspended last night.

Here's How Super Market Shoppers Look to Others

By ED CREAUGH
WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal to Queen Elizabeth II of England and King Mohammed V of Morocco.

Your Majesties have shown an interest, during your visits told these shores, in the American supermarket. Well you might. The supermarket, in its awesomely majestic, is a growing symbol of American abundance. It is growing so fast, in fact, that if many more of them are built there won't be any place for the customers to live.

There is no truth, however, to the story that one suburban couple woke up one morning to find a new supermarket built all around them. They were, so the story goes, in the middle of the baby food department — which, as a matter of fact, would have saved them quite a few steps in the course of the years.

The supermarket customer never missed, though, in your marveling at the heaps of goodies, delis, delicatessens, mops and phonographs, records, is perhaps the most remarkable thing of all: the supermarket customer.

He — and especially she — comes in many varieties, but the following categories pretty well cover the field.

1. Big Bertha. She's the same gal who drives in front of you on the highway — right down the middle of the road. She always has shopping cart and if it were a Superman tank, "One thing you must say in her favor: She is predictable. She will either run you down or leave her cart smack in the aisle where you're bound to

FBI Holding Meeting on Enforcement

J. J. Casper, Special Agent in Charge of the Little Rock Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced that the FBI conferences on "Law Enforcement and the Fleeing Fugitive" will be held on December 10 in the Community Room, County Building, Fort Smith, and the Circuit Courtroom at Pine Bluff, Arkansas, on December 12, 1957.

The conference will commence at 9:30 a. m. on the dates indicated.

According to Mr. Casper, one of the major problems facing local, county and state law enforcement agencies is the bringing to justice of individuals who flee across state lines after the alleged commission of a crime. He added that more than 150 conferences dealing with the location of fugitives have been scheduled this year by the FBI. The conferences will be conducted on a formal basis and will provide for a mutual exchange of information and knowledge.

The annual Lions Club auction ended last night with a total take of about $1,400, some less than last year but enough to assure that a good many needy families in this area will have a Christmas.

The club will use the money to purchase food and toys, usually wholesale, which are placed in baskets and delivered throughout the city on Christmas morning.

The club expresses its appreciation to everyone, especially merchants who donate most of the items auctioned.

Guy Grigg received an invitation to attend the Arkansas Pest Control Association's annual meet in Little Rock next week.

One line of the invitation seemed a promise. "Bring your wife shopping." After she sees the prices here she will be glad she bought the stuff at home.

Although the monthly State Police report shows 10 wrecks on Hempstead Highway in October, there were no fatalities. Howard and Lafayette had a total of 3 wrecks with no deaths but Nevada County had nine accidents with two persons killed.

Firemen had a call to a house on Dewey Street yesterday where they discovered some wiring a-flame but damage was light.

Although the department has received many calls in recent weeks minimum damage has resulted.

Seems folks are more careful burning trash these days.

REMEMBER the annual Christmas Parade starts promptly at 7 o'clock tonight.

More Than 100 Die in London Railway Crash

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (AP) — Rescue workers today said approximately 100 persons died in the rush-hour crash of two trains taking commuters and Christmas shoppers to their homes in thick fog last night.

Salvage crews, moving through a nightmare scene of fog and twisted metal, brought out 63 bodies. They said more than 30 other bodies still were trapped in the mangled coaches.

Police said more than 200 others were injured, including 110 seriously hurt. Determination of the final toll of dead and injured may take several days.

Arms and legs of still bodies protruded from the windows and shattered roofs of the coaches. The rescue crews said there was no hope that any still remaining in the wreckage were alive.

"This is going to be a long job. We haven't even started," said a member of one salvage gang.

Tarpaulin screens were erected along roadways overlooking the scene in southeast London to hide the wreckage from passing motorists and the curious.

Horrible as the wreck was, it just missed being even worse, for a third train almost was involved.

An 11-coach steam train, driven into the rear of a 10-coach electric train halted near St. John's Station. The impact shot cars into the air and brought down part of an overhead viaduct which carried another electric rail line.

An eight-coach electric train above was left with the front wheels of its engine hanging over the edge. Salvage teams early this morning finally removed the train above.

Says Subs Can Cruise Under Polar Ice

NEW YORK (AP) — Rear Adm. H. G. Rickover said today nuclear submarines could cruise under the ice of the North Pole to get quickly between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Rickover is head of the Navy's scientific team which developed the atomic submarine and is now working on nuclear-powered surface ships.

In a talk prepared for the Overseas Press Club, Rickover said that the recent feat of the submarine Nautilus in traveling 1,383 miles under the arctic ice "is not fully appreciated."

"I venture to say that it will go down as one of history's greatest feats of exploration," he said.

Rickover said a power failure in the Nautilus' gyro compass was the only reason why the submarine did not reach the pole itself. He said he trusts that the men of the Nautilus in the not too distant future "will be the first men over to voyage under the North Pole."

Georgia Blast Kills Six, 20 Injured, 4 Stores Wrecked

VILLA RICA, Ga. (AP) — An explosion wrecked four stores in this small west Georgia town today and early reports said six bodies were removed from the wreckage. Fire followed the blast.

Twenty persons suffering from burns were brought to the Villa Rica Hospital. Fire enveloped wreckage of the stores and fire departments were called from Atlanta and other nearby towns. The fire was reported under control an hour and a half after the 11 a. m. blast.

Johnson Says Nation Has to Catch Up

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) said last night the nation has some catching up to do and "we must go into high gear at once to produce the weapons that will insure survival."

But, he said, most of us will live to see space ships. "Rockets to the moon are just over the horizon. Space ships are only a few years away and most of us will live to see them."

"The scientists are already talking—in serious terms—about the day when we will escape the solar system and explore the universe," Johnson said.

He said, "Recent scientific achievements by the Soviet Union have resulted in grave problems for the United States; that the nation 'has been' completely outstripped in a field where we thought we were supreme."

Man Killed by Another Who Shoots Himself

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — Two Harrison men were shot fatally yesterday in what authorities termed a murder and suicide growing out of ill-feeling over a business transaction.

Dead were Elzie O. Downum, 48, and Tom Stinnett, about 60. Coroner Norman Andrews said Downum was shot as he worked with Leon Gray, his business partner, in front of their small monument plant two miles south of Harrison on U. S. Highway 65.

Andrews said he and Sheriff Spence Holder later found Stinnett's body in a barn near his home behind the monument works. A .22 calibre rifle with a string attached to the trigger was found by Stinnett's body, the coroner said.

Holder quoted Gray as saying he heard a shot and Downum cried out and fell.

Gray told officers he and Downum purchased the monument plant from Stinnett last June and that Stinnett was dissatisfied with the transaction.

The coroner said Stinnett apparently shot Downum through an opening from the loft of the barn, then descended and turned the gun on himself.

Downum was killed instantly by a bullet which entered the right side of his chest. Stinnett died of a wound in the abdomen.

Andrews ruled the case murder and suicide.

Downum's survivors include his widow and a daughter.

New Try to Set Off Satellite Set for Friday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A new attempt to launch the first test satellite was ordered today to get under way in daylight hours tomorrow.

The announcement came from the Defense Department, information chief C. H. Schooley, at the outset of a news conference.

Schooley said the launching attempt would be made some time after 7 a. m.

"The conference was two hours later than had been initially planned, while military and scientific planners conferred."

Department 2 of First Baptist Church Has Christmas Party

The Young People's Department two of the First Baptist Church held its annual Christmas dinner in the banquet room of the church on Tuesday evening, Dec. 2. The dinner was served buffet style to 21 members and four visitors. The Christmas decorations of pine, holly, silvered leaves and red candles were used on the table and piano and the manger scene was used on the serving table. Mr. Draper served as Master of Ceremonies.

Following the dinner Hershel McBay with his wife at the piano, directed the group in singing of Christmas carols. Dr. John McClanahan brought a most inspiring Christmas message.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Norris Ratliff, Mrs. Jack Anderson, Mrs. Jimmy Hollis. The decorations were arranged by Mrs. James Burke, Mrs. Donald Huckabee, Mrs. Fred Mathenia, Mrs. Jimmy Hollis and Mrs. Norris Ratliff.

A social hour was enjoyed following the dinner meeting.

DeAnn Lilac Garner Club Meets in Jewel Burke Home
The Lilac Garden Club of DoAnn met Tuesday, Nov. 28 in the home of Mrs. Jewel Burke with Mrs. Carlton Samuel as co-hostess. Arrangements of red chrysanthemums and turkey figurines were placed at vantage points throughout the lovely Burke home.

After a short business meeting, plans were made for the Christmas party to be held in the home of Mrs. Irvin Burke Tuesday, Dec. 17.

The program chairman presented Mrs. Carl Dalrymple of Prescott who gave a most interesting demonstration of home decorations and gift wrappings. As this is a hobby with Mrs. Dalrymple, she spends much of her time in designing and making decorations and wrappings.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the hostesses serve a delicious dessert plate with tea to the members and three guests present.

Spring Hill PTA Meets
On Monday evening the Spring Hill PTA met in the School Auditorium for regular monthly meeting.

The seventh grade gave a short Christmas play. Following this play Mr. James Shaddox was the guest speaker.

Spring Hill Home Demonstration Club Meets
The Spring Hill Home Demonstration Club had its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Leslie Huckabee.

The meeting opened with the group repeating the I D Creed. Mrs. Bobby Sooter, vice president presided over the business session. The devotional was given by the hostess and prayer offered by Mrs. Sooter.

Roll call was answered by "Why I Am Thankful." The minutes were read and approved. Final plans were made for the council Christmas party to be held in the Tabernacle Fellowship Hall, each member is to bring a gift.

Demonstration by the Home Furnishing Leader, Mrs. Leslie Huckabee, showing discarded scraps made into beautiful quilts. At the Christmas party it was decided to take a small gift to each patient in the Nursing Home.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Bobby Sooter, Mrs. Mary Bensley, Mrs. Jessie Mae Porterfield, Mrs. Howard Garner, Mrs. Leon Tompkins, Mrs. Pearl Tompkins, Mrs. Leslie Huckabee and Miss Sheila Garrett and Miss Debbie Wright.

The meeting adjourned to meet in the home of Mrs. Howard Garner, Dec. 26th.

Many Things Featured in the Markets

Housewives who have trouble making up their mind will find the going rough in the nation's supermarkets and grocery stores this week, to the choice of meat.

is likely to be varied. Various cuts of beef and pork will be featured at bargain prices. Some stores will offer more expensive cuts such as steaks and top of bottom round. Nearly as many, however, will be using the big type for chuck roast and stew meat.

Specials on pork include roast pork, smoked ham and a sprinkling of bargains on bacon. This fits in nicely with sharply lower prices for eggs in almost all areas. A sudden upsurge in production sent prices down 6 to 10 cents a dozen with the largest drops among the large Grade A eggs. Fish and fowl are not widely offered this week. Fish prices may go higher due to recurring storms which hamper North Atlantic fishing fleets.

Best buys at vegetable counters will be potatoes, onions, lettuce, eggplants, escarole, endive, yellow squash and cabbage. Slightly more expensive are Idaho potatoes, broccoli, sweet potatoes and brussels sprouts. Cauliflower is trending lower in price. Cucumbers and tomatoes are reported higher this week.

Apples again are the star performers in the fruit department and government figures show why: This year's crop is 16 per cent greater than last year's. Oranges, grapefruit and tangerines also are outstanding buys. 50 are avocados, if you happen to fancy them.

It is estimated by Population Reference Bureau that about 50 million people migrated from their homelands in search of political and economic stability between 1946-1955.

Joe Brown Knocks Out Joey Lopes

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown, fresh from blasting aside game but over-matched Joey Lopes, is poised for a probable February title defense against Ralph Dupas at Houston, Tex.

Brown last night scored an 11th-round technical knockout of Lopes in a televised championship bout that was more uneven than it may have looked.

On points, Lopes was still very much in the fight until the champion lowered the boom in 1:50 of the 11th round, but actually Brown was toying with the 4'11 underdog virtually from the start.

Brown fought a retreating fight in the early rounds, but scarcely used a right-hand punch. In the seventh, the champion exploded a right to the chin which floored Lopes for a count of four.

Southwest's Crow, Hill Make All-American

By BOB HOOBING

NEW YORK (AP) — A halfback whose first field goal attempt made history, a "comeback" tackle and a senior giant making his varsity debut at center today were named to the 1957 Associated Press All American football team.

North Carolina State's Dick Christy is the electrifying runner whose 45-yard boot climaxed a record 29-point finish to his brilliant year and clinched the Wolf-pack's first Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

Quarterback King Hill of Rice, bonus pick of the National Football League, Texas A&M's massive John Crow and elusive Jimmy Pace of Michigan complete the backfield.

Rated by Coach Forest Evashevski as a dismal flop as a sophomore, Iowa tackle Alex Kar-as has become one of the finest linemen in recent years. The 233-pounder from Gary, Ind., is the long repeater from 1956.

Dan Currie of Michigan State was asked to plug a gap at center after two years as guard. The 6-3, 225-pound Detroit lad did it so effectively he was ranked No. 1 player in the area by the Midwest board.

The remainder of the line includes Jimmy (Big Red) Phillips of Auburn's national title and Dick Wallen of UCLA at ends; rugged Lou Michaels of Kentucky at the other tackle with Ohio State's Aurelius Thomas and Oklahoma's Bill Krisher manning the guard spots.

The team was selected on recommendations from 12 regional boards.

Hill and Crow represent the only paired backfield men from the Southwest Conference on the All America with the exception of the two-platoon year of 1951.

A 205 pound halfback from Freepport, Tex., Hill ran, passed, kicked and was outstanding defensively. Crow is a gifted 214-pounder from Springhill, La., who constantly amazed opponents with his speed, power and ability to make the big defensive lay.

The 180-pound Christy set an ACC scoring record in "his" 29-26 victory over South Carolina fashioned on the field goal after time had run out. The Chester, Pa., flash couldn't be stopped. He rushed 628 yards, caught 10 passes for 211, returned kicks 363 and talled 83 points.

Pace, picked by an eyelash over Michigan State's Walt Kowalczyk, is the Big Ten's leading scorer and ground gainer. Coach Bennie Oosterbaan calls Pace
"Michigan's best running back since Tommy Harmon and Elroy Hirsch."

Kowalczyk, Bob Anderson of Army, Bob Stransky of Colorado and Lee Grosscup of Utah comprise the second-team backfield.

Porkers Turn Back A&M of New Mexico

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A couple of classy cagers from Jonesboro showed the University of Arkansas to a 69-50 basketball victory over New Mexico A&M last night.

Larry Grisham and Tommy Rankin led a 12-point Razorback surge midway in the second half that wiped out a 10-point Aggies lead and put the Porkers in front to stay at 44-43.

The slow-starting Porkers scored only 20 points in the first

Kentucky and Kansas Post Cage Victories

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

Kansas and Kentucky, each tabbed a strong contender for North Carolina's national collegiate basketball championship, have broken from the barrier in a hurry.

So has Will (the Silt) Chamberlain, the Jayhawks' amazing marksman.

Both "K" teams hung up their second victories of the infant campaign last night. The Jayhawks rode over Chnisius 66-46 as Chamberlain poured in 32 points and Kentucky nipped highly-rated
Ohio State 61-54.

Pittsburgh also scored imprints-half but poured in 39 in the second 20 minutes.

Grisham, a dead-eye from any where on the court, scored 20 points. Rankin contributed nine, most of them at key points.

acc. paced the Panthers to their triumphs collecting 86 points on eight field goals and 10 free throws in a rough game that saw three players from each team sidelined on fouls.

Marquette's loss was its second in two starts though Coach Jack Nagle has described the team as his best since 1954-1955. That one put together a 24-3 record.

Still, their opponents from Do-Pere, Wis. had the answer in ball-control strategy.

Elsewhere, Clemson, which will touch off North Carolina's campaign Saturday night, bowed to Georgia's Bulldogs 62-60.

Maryland, a strong Atlantic Coast Conference team, opened its season by turning back George Washington 64-55.

3. Helpless Harry. He's feeling put upon because his wife stuck him with the shopping detail. You can always spot him by the list he carries. It has such jottings as "B&S, R's," which he is supposed to interpret as "brown-n-serve rolls," and 4 D.F.F., by which his wife means he is to get four cans of dog food if, but only if, there is a sale on it.

KATY Wants to Abandon Branch Line

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Abandonment of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad branch between Bryson, Mo., and Paola, Kan., would leave only 1,096 persons at five existing stations without rail service, a Katy official said today.

H. J. Carr, St. Louis, freight traffic manager of the rates, sales and service department, testified at the second day of an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the railroad's application to abandon the 86-mile line.

"The population of 11 stations or communities being served by the line proposed to be abandoned, according to figures obtained for the year 1957, is estimated at 6,342," Carr said.

"Of this population, 5,246 live at points which are also served by other railroads, namely, Harrisonville, East Alton, Holden, Mo., however, Post Oak and Leeton, Mo., leaving only 1,096 at the five local stations that would be without rail service."

Paola was not included in the figures because the city is on the main line of Katy. By an amendment to the application the railroad seeks to maintain its branch trackage in Paola to serve industries there.

Carr said the branch handled a total of 571 cars in 1955, 602 in 1956 and 443 in the first nine months of 1957. During that two-year, nine-month period only 430 cars were at points where other railroads could not have handled them, Carr said.

Thomas S. Carter, Katy's chief engineer, estimated the railroad would have to spend more than $1,000,000 in the next 10 years for maintenance and rehabilitation.

Marshall Grant, Producer, Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marshall Grant, 47, producer of "Big Town," "Lux Video Theater," "Mannix," "Mayor of the Town" and other television films, died yesterday of a heart attack.

Born in Racine, Wis., he was with radio station WHAD, Milwaukee, in 1931-32, then became an actor on the New York stage and in stock. In 1936 he entered the movie industry as an RKO production assistant.

In 1942-45 he formed his own companies to produce movies and TV films. He won the first TV Emmy award for a film series—Your Showtime.

Top Producer Films Broadway Stage Show 'Pajama Game'

HEY THERE! John Raitt calls to Doris Day in Warner Bros. filmization of the smash Broadway hit, "The Pajama Game." In WarnerColor, the George Abbott and Stanley Donen produced and directed film also stars Carol Haney, Eddie Foy, Jr. and the cast of the original show.

George Abbott, one of the very top craftsmen in the business of entertainment, has been described as a singularly cool and collected citizen who conducts his activities with a minimum of hanky-panky, hysteria and other occupational vapors.

That's exactly the manner in which he functioned recently at Warner Bros. for his latest Hollywood venture as the producer of "The Pajama Game," WarnerColor filmization of the Broadway stage smash. The film starring Doris Day and John Raitt arrives Sunday at the Saenger theater.

With his production associates — Frederick Blisson, Robert E. Griffith and Harold S. Prince — Abbott came to Warner prepared to recreate on the screen all the color, spirit and movement that made "The Pajama Game" one of the all-time stage successes.

Seizures in Indonesia Bring Warning

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Premier Djuanda warned today that the government will take drastic action against workers seizing Dutch companies without official approval.

Shortly before he issued his statement, Communist-led trade unions took over a third Dutch company. The unions acted under cover of the government's campaign for possession of Dutch wealth New Guinea. The government says the union action was unauthorized.

Djuanda said he has instructed the military administrators throughout the nation to prevent all action endangering anyone's personal safety or property. He emphasized any takeover of Dutch interests will be only under government direction.

The Communist-run Sobel Trade Union Federation took control of the Jacobson Van Denberg Trading Co. The union already occupies the offices of two Dutch shipping lines and is flying its red flag over their buildings. Sobel also set up guards outside three leading Dutch banks in Jakarta.

New Rights Commission Plan Halted

By FRED S. HOFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans of the new Civil Rights Commission to start work next week were halted indefinitely today by the surprise resignation of its chairman.

Stanley F. Reed, the former Supreme Court justice who had agreed to head the six-member commission, disclosed yesterday he had changed his mind.

Reed told President Eisenhower in a letter of resignation that "for me to accept such an investigatory and advisory office in the executive department, after service upon the Supreme Court in many civil rights cases, now seems to me incompatible with my obligations as a judge."

The White House made public Reed's hand-written letter, along with Eisenhower's reply accepting the resignation.

The President wrote Reed that "under the circumstances, I must respect the reasons you give for being unable to serve" on the commission.

The White House announced indefinite postponement of a commission organization meeting that had been set for next Monday. Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerty said he had no information on when the President will name a new commission member to replace Reed.

The bipartisan commission was created by Congress in a civil rights law passed late last summer. The group was empowered to make a two-year investigation of federal laws and policies bearing on equal protection of the laws, and to look into the alleged denial of voting rights.

Nominations to the commission are subject to Senate confirmation. After Reed's appointment Nov. 7, there was no open Senate opposition, even though Southern senators were aware he took part in the Supreme Court's unanimous 1954 decision that racial segregation in the public schools is unconstitutional.

Church Council Touches on a Touchy Issue

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A touchy question throughout the history of the National Council of Churches—its authority in relation to member denominations—has come up at its General Assembly here.

The point was raised by the Rev. Dr. Truman B. Douglas, executive vice president of the Congressional Christian Churches. He said the separate denominations have yet to recognize the "real dimensions" of the Council.

They act as if they "are the master," and the Council is only "a slave," he said.

The National Council includes most of the major Protestant and Orthodox churches—100 denominations altogether—with a total of 47½ million members, nearly a fourth of the nation's population.

Noting there are now more than 5,000 interdenominational councils and federations on local, state, national and world levels, Dr. Douglas told a special meeting yesterday that Christians need to recognize the "real dimensions and significance of these councils."

"From one viewpoint the councils are creatures of the denominations. But there is another important sense in which the councils are called to be judges of the denominations."

"We know that there is a Church of Christ which transcends all the churches. This true church is never perfectly embodied in any of our existing churches nor will it ever be so long as we continue in our present divisions."

"But the Council of Churches, to the extent it represents areas of Christian life in which the divisions have been overcome, make manifest the true church in a way that their member communities are unable to do."

To the extent that the councils do this, they also mediate judgment upon the denominations."

However, Dr. Douglas said, there is what he called a "denominational presupposition" in this country which holds that the individual denomination is the "proper object of ultimate loyalty."

This attitude, he said, has resulted in secondary chores and other drudgery being heaped on the councils, with the effect that their real significance is blurred. Much of the general public, he said, regards councils of churches as being mainly preoccupied with opposing bingos and mutual betting on horse races.

These are worthy causes, he said, but with other "life-and-

THE STORY: Jim Bennett has discovered the body of Hugo Howell's room. An ice pick was buried in the body.

CHAPTER XVI

For maybe 30 seconds I stared dumbly at the varnished wooden handle gleaming dully in the dim light. Beneath the handle there was about two inches of the steel point above the sheet, and it entered the sheet in almost the exact center of a three-inch disc of blood. I lifted the end of the sheet carefully and saw a still slack face with glazed half-open eyes. It wasn't the face I'd expected to see. The dead man in Hugo Howell's bed was Ambrose Lott.

The ice pick had gone into his left side, a little high for dead center of the heart, but not too high. His left body was naked except for a pair of gaudily striped shorts. He was still warm. His suit, socks, shirt, tie and shoes were lying in a crumpled heap beside the bed.

I went out and closed the door. There was no one in the hall, and all the doors were closed. I moved to the door next to Howell's room, listened intently, heard the muffled sound of snoring. I tried the knob. The door was not locked. I opened it slowly and carefully, stepped inside and closed it again. In the faint light from the street I saw that the size, furniture and arrangement of the room were almost identical to the one I'd just left, Howell's room. In fact it was similar to my own room, and I decided that all the rooms in the hotel were furnished and arranged pretty much the same.

Hugo Howell was sprawled on the bed, his mouth open, snoring heavily. The room smelled of whiskey. I crossed to the window, opened it, felt a cool breeze from the lake on my face. Howell was fully dressed.

Howell groaned, rolled on his side, and mumbled something incoherent. Then the snoring began again. I went out and returned to the room next door, Howell's room, number 210, where I'd talked to him that morning. I closed and locked the door, pulled down the blind and turned on the overhead light. The half-opened eyes of the man on the bed seemed to follow me as I moved about, peering in the closet, opening dresser drawers. There was a battered pigskin bag in the closet bearing brass initials: H.H.H. I death problems" at stake, concentration on them makes the councils "symbols of religious and ethical triviality."

I went to the phone and called Chief of Police Orville Campbell.

The county coroner's name was Dr. John Sours. He was a little pot-bellied man who seemed quite competent.

Dr. Sours, after a careful examination, stated positively that death had resulted from the ice pick entering the vicinity of the heart's left atrium, "Orville," he said, to Chief Campbell, "by rights I should do a post for the record, but it's not necessary. There is no question in my mind as to the cause of this man's death."

"I'll take your word for it, John," the chief said, and added dragged it out, opened it, found clean shirts, underwear, socks, handkerchiefs also bearing Howell's initials, an unopened fifth of rye whiskey, a bottle opener, a long silver stirring spoon and a letter addressed to Howell. The envelope bore the return address of the Union National Bank in Detroit. Inside was a single blue form stating that Hugo Howell's checking account was overdrawn in the sum of $280.40 and asking him to cover the overdraft immediately. I replaced the form and returned the envelope to the bag, thinking grimly that the agency might have trouble in collecting its fee and expenses from Howell, not to mention cashing the check he'd already sent.

On top of the dresser were two empty bottles, two glasses with the dregs of drinks in their bottoms, a Harbor House silver bucket of which had apparently contained ice cubes, an ash tray loaded with soggy cigar butts. Beside the ash tray was a small gilt frame holding a faded snapshot of a middle-aged woman with a quivering worried expression standing in a weedy yard before a decrepit-looking house. Beside her was a boy wearing torn pants and a sweater too light for him. I recognized the boy as Wayne Howell, maybe 10 years ago. The woman was undoubtedly the late Mrs. Howell. Wayne's mother, whose foresight and devotion to her only son was now the reason for my presence in Lawport, O.

This was Hugo Howell's room, even though Ambrose Lott lay dead in his bed, and even though Howell was sleeping next door in Lott's bed. In their drunkenness they had confused the rooms. Lott had entered Howell's room, and Howell had entered Lott's. And the murderer, sneaking in after they both were asleep, had thought in the darkness that he was jabbing the ice pick into Hugo Howell.

I went to the phone and called Chief of Police Orville Campbell.

The county coroner's name was Dr. John Sours. He was a little pot-bellied man who seemed quite competent.

Dr. Sours, after a careful examination, stated positively that death had resulted from the ice pick entering the vicinity of the heart's left atrium, "Orville," he said, to Chief Campbell, "by rights I should do a post for the record, but it's not necessary. There is no question in my mind as to the cause of this man's death."

"I'll take your word for it, John," the chief said, and added

wryly, "Anyhow, I'm afraid the council wouldn't approve the cost of an autopsy."

By midnight it was all over. Ambrose Lott had been hauled away to a local undertaking establishment. The members of the hotel staff on duty had been questioned. We woke up Hugo Howell, but he was too dazed to know what we were talking about. His mumbled answers indicated that he and Lott had staggered upstairs and entered what each had thought was his own room. We left him snoring in Ambrose Lott's room. All through it the little hotel manager hovered about, wringing his hands and repeating that he couldn't have this sort of thing and what will the owners think? A murder in the Harbor House.

Drys Take a Bad Licking in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Prohibition forces who wanted to dry up the sale of 3.2 beer in Oklahoma through individual county option took a bad licking yesterday and indications mounted that a big push for legalized sale of liquor will develop in this constitutionally dry state.

In a surprisingly heavy turnout, Oklahomans voted by a margin of some 61,000 votes against the county option plan sponsored by dries. Oklahoma and Tulsa, the two largest counties, provided most of the margin to keep beer sold statewide.

Unofficial returns from 3,106 of the state's 3,290 precincts gave 213,261 votes for county option and 274,944 against. Opponents of option had cast about 36.3 per cent of the total vote.

It was a victory for the beer industry, which had campaigned heavily on issues of tax revenue and claims that county option would make law enforcement more difficult. The vote was a severe defeat for the United Dry Assn., which had forced the election with the active support of Gov. Raymond Gary, a personal dry.

Spokesmen for both wets and dries predicted the outcome will mean a drive for a repeal election before long.

Confidential Case Starts Again Soon

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Superior Court arguments on an obscenity charge against Confidential and Whisper magazines has been set for Dec. 17.

Conspiracy to commit criminal libel charges against the two magazines were dismissed Nov. 12, after a seven-week trial ended in a deadlocked jury. So were all charges against individuals.

By midnight it was all over. Ambrose Lott had been hauled away to a local undertaking establishment. The members of the hotel staff on duty had been questioned. We woke up Hugo Howell, but he was too dazed to know what we were talking about. His mumbled answers indicated that he and Lott had staggered upstairs and entered what each had thought was his own room. We left him snoring in Ambrose Lott's room. All through it the little hotel manager hovered about, wringing his hands and repeating that he couldn't have this sort of thing and what will the owners think? A murder in the Harbor House.
